James P. Adams Library, Rhode Island College

EXHIBIT POLICY

Public Statement

The Library’s main exhibit cases are located in the lobby on the third floor of the Library. Smaller cases are also available throughout the third floor. Exhibits should be of general interest to the Rhode Island College community, and incorporate one or more of these purposes/intentions:

• To call attention to a theme related to library issues, collections, or programs, or to promote interest in and use of library collections and services

• To highlight current issues, events, or other subjects of campus and community interest

• To support the curriculum and/or instructional programs of the college

• To showcase faculty and student research

All exhibits must be planned by a Rhode Island College faculty or staff member, or be sponsored by a college department or student organization. The Library encourages faculty, staff, students and departments to plan or sponsor exhibits.

To reserve display cases for an exhibit, contact a member of the PR Committee: Tovah Reis, (401) 456-8052 treis@ric.edu, Debra Thomson at (401) 456-9651 dthomson@ric.edu, Kieran Ayton (401) 456-9604 kayton@ric.edu, or Brian Baker (401) 456-8182 bbaker@ric.edu

Revised August 13, 2014