DigitalCommons@RIC Contributor Agreement

In order to make your work(s) openly available on the web via the DigitalCommons@RIC, you as a Contributor are asked to sign this DigitalCommons@RIC agreement, which:

• confirms that you as the Contributor (or the copyright holder if different from the Contributor) shall retain all rights.
• grants Rhode Island College and its agents permission to distribute and to take the necessary steps to preserve your work.

I, as the creator of scholarly content (“Contributor”), do hereby grant Rhode Island College and its agents permission to maintain and share copies of my original work(s) (“Submission”) under the following terms and conditions:

COPYRIGHT:
No copyrights are transferred by this agreement, so I, as the Contributor, or the copyright holder if different from the Contributor, shall retain all rights. If I am the copyright holder of a Submission, I represent that third-party content included in the Submission has been used with permission from the copyright holder(s), or falls within fair use under United States law [http://www.copyright.gov/title17/92chap1.html#107].

REPRESENTATION OF ORIGINAL AUTHORSHIP:
I represent and warrant that I am the original author of the Submission.

ACCESS AND USE:
My Submission will be maintained in an open access online digital environment via the DigitalCommons@RIC. The Submission is intended for educational purposes only. Signing this document neither endorses nor authorizes the commercial use of my work in DigitalCommons@RIC by Rhode Island College or any other person or organization. Because materials on DigitalCommons@RIC are openly available online to anyone with internet access, I do not hold Rhode Island College responsible for third party use of my Submission. I agree that Rhode Island College may keep more than one copy of my Submission for preservation purposes.

WITHDRAWING WORKS:
I understand that I may request the removal of an individual work that I have contributed to DigitalCommons@RIC, for any reason, and that Adams Library will remove my work on my request received in writing. Such removal will not alter other terms of this agreement.

TERM:
This agreement will remain in effect unless permission is withdrawn by Contributor via written request to Adams Library at Rhode Island College.
